

Tom's Lab — what it does today

A free desktop study tool published by SDE-Software (SDES.DEV).

Version shown: 1.0.0 · Date: April 2026

Policy (read first)

- Free, as-is. No fee, no licence, no warranty.
 - Self-service only. No one-on-one support, walkthroughs, or installation help.
 - User-supplied data. The app never fetches from Discord, YouTube, or anywhere else. The user exports their own Discord history (via DiscordChatExporter) and drops PDFs into a folder. Nothing phones home.
 - No affiliation. Tom's Lab is not associated with Tom B, Bookmap Ltd., Bookmap's Discord moderators, or Discord Inc. Do not contact any of them about it.
 - User owns ToS exposure. Bookmap's and Discord's terms apply to the user's own export activity.

What's in the app

Search — three ways

- Keyword — full-text over every message; @author syntax to scope by poster.
- Semantic — meaning-based; finds concepts even when the words don't match.
- Visual — image-text search on chart screenshots ("chart with three clear peaks").

Ask Tom

Multi-turn Q&A grounded only in the imported material. Every answer shows citations (message IDs, PDF page numbers) that jump straight to the source. If it isn't in the material, it says it doesn't know.

Organise the archive

- Favourites — right-click an author's avatar to promote their posts (gold .
- Bookmarks — star any message and add a private note.
- Concepts — one-click filter by concept (VPOC, IBL, absorption, etc.), seeded from the Glossary PDF.

Browse visually

- Gallery — grid of every chart image in the export; click through to the post it came from.

- Featured speaker highlighting — the primary author's posts are visually separated from replies.
